St. Joseph, Missouri, January 27, 2025

The Saint Joseph Symphony Chamber Series “Symphony Minis” will conclude on February 16th on a romantic note with a recital performed by concertmaster of the Saint Joseph Symphony Chun-Chien Chuang. Collaborating with her on piano will be her husband John Villaveces. This popular husband and wife violin/piano duo has performed on the Saint Joseph Symphony Chamber Mini Series to great acclaim in years past.

“This recital is musically designed to keep the romance alive during the Valentine’s Day weekend,” states Managing Director Nancy Schmidt-Brunson. “Drs. Chuang and Villaveces have chosen pieces composed by some of the most romantic of 19th century Romantic Era composers. A gorgeous and intimate experience awaits our audience.”

On the program are works by Johannes Brahms, Antonin Dvořák, French composer Gabriel Fauré, American composer Amy Beach, and another husband and wife couple, Robert and Clara Schumann.

The concert will be held at Ashland United Methodist Church, 2711 Ashland Avenue at 3:00 p.m. on Sunday, February 16th. Ticket prices are $30 for adults and can be purchased online at saintjosephsymphony.org. Children and student tickets are half price and secured by calling the office at (816) 233-7701.
